BISHOPS SELECTED

An Important Day's Work by the Delegates to the Evangelical Conference.

Messrs, Esher, Bowman, Breyfogel and Horn Chosen to These Positions-Interesting Debate Incident to the Election.

Yesterday was one of the most important for the Evangelical General Conference thus far. The most animated debate yet held was on the question whether three or four bishops should be elected, and the latter number was decided upon. The election itself, which resulted in the choice of J. J. Esher, T. Bowman, S. C. Breyfogel and W. Horn as hishops of the church, passed off very quietly, and although some favorite candidates were defeated, all seemed to be satisfied that the interests of the church have been intrusted into safe hands.

Bishop Esher opened the morning session by reading the eleventh chapter of St. Luke. Rev. Meier, of the Texas Conference, offered an earnest prayer, asking for divine guidance in the day's deliberations. The minutes of Monday's sessions were, after a few slight corrections, approved by conference, after which the roll of the conference was again called to receive petitions and recommendations.

Rev. S. P. Spreng recommended that the article in the Discipline in reference to the guidance of editors be referred to the committee on revision for a recasting.

Rev. Wittenwyler, of the Wisconsin Conference, wished to have the name of the corresponding secretary changed to that of collecting secretary, and that the treasurer of the society shall also be the corresponding secretary.

Rev. G. Heinmiller, of the Germany Conference, desired so have the Discipline so changed that in special cases it shall be left to the discretion of the bishop and the presiding elders to continue a preacher two or three years longer than the disciplinary on the previous day, voted against the recommendation to lengthen thet term of service, and refused to refer the recommendation of Rev. Heinmiller to the committee on revision. The committee on episcopacy reported, recommending the election of four bishops. Rev. Wittenwyler offered an amendment to elect only three bishops. This motion was followed by the ablest and most interesting debate since the conference has been in session, which was participated in by nearly all the ablest speakers on the floor. Rev. Wittenwyler thought that three bishops were enough to do the work that must be done by a bishop—that it was not neces-sary to dedicate every church costing a few hundred dollars.

Rev. Hornberger said that with the reduc-tion in the bishop's salary as already fixed by conference, four bishops will cost very little more than the three cost in the past quadrennium, especially when the decrease in their traveling expenses be also taken into consideration.

Rev. Bittner made a very earnest plea, on behalf of the Oregon Conference, for four bishops, saying that they needed a bishop to remain with them some time and help them to work up the interests of that con-

Rev. W. H. Guehlich said that if a Japan conference was to be organized a bishop would have to go to Japan at least once in two years, and when a bishop goes to Europe he ought to stay more than a few weeks. Besides this, there is so much to be attended to at home that the church needs

Rev. Snyder, of the Michigan Conference, who seconded the amendment to elect only three bishops, spoke in favor of the amend was, in fact, the principal argument advanced against the election of four bishops by nearly all who spoke on that side of the Rev. Pfitzinger said the main question was, what is best for the church? Not, how much money will it cost; but, how can we save most for the church? And upon this basis-that the interests of the work demand it-Rev. Pfitzinger made an able appeal in favor of four bishops.

FURTHER DEBATE. Rev. R. Yeakel referred to the fact that the bishops (1) elected by the opposition faction would travel all over the church and endeavor everywhere to kindle the fires of rebellion, even in localities where there has been hitherto quietness and harmony. The influence of these disturbers of the peace of the church must be counteritor of German Sunday-school literature. Rev. M. Stamm, of Ashton, Ill., is to be the editor of German Sunday-school literature. Rev. acted. Besides this, said Rev. Yeakel, Bishop Esher, who, he hoped, would be reelected by a unanimous vote, is getting old and will not be able to perform the arduous work in the future which he performed in

Bishop Bowman said that some may think we bishops ought not to say anything upon this subject, but we certainly know the needs of the church as well as any one else, and hence I feel it my duty to speak. Japan and Europe need to be visited. In the Central and Pittsburg conferences there are many loyal people who are calling to us for help. They need to be looked after. Southern Ohio and Des Moines conferences will require special attention. The money consideration is a small matter. What a pity that the church did not have four bishops in the past eight years! With the salary paid for a fourth bishop those eight years we might have saved thousands and thousands elsewhere. Finally, Rev. Snyder, who had seconded the amendment, stated, good humoredly, that he was converted to the idea that the church needed four bishops, and said be

The committee's report, recommending the election of four bishops, was adopted. The election of bishops was held in the afternoon. Previous to the election, conference spent nearly an hour in devotional exercises. Earnest prayers, asking the guidance of the Holy Spirit in the election of bishops, were offered by Revs. C. Weigand, J. A. Hensel and C. Oertle. These exercises were most solemn and impressive. At the conclusion the chairman declared that the election of bishops was now in order. Some time was occupied by the conference in deciding upon the manner of procedure in the election. Some favored voting first for eight candidates, and that these should then withdraw and give the conference an opportunity to discuss, in their absence, their qualifications and fit-ness for the office, but finally Rev. S. N. Moyer's motion prevailed that the conference vote direct for bishops, without voting birst for candidates. It was ascertained that there were ninety-nine members present entitled to vote, requiring just fifty votes for an election. Revs. S. Berstecher, G. Haller, J. R. Hensel and W. A. Leopold were appointed to serve as tellers. As four men were to be elected every member was asked to write four names upon his ballot. The first ballot resulted as fol-lows: J. J. Esher, 94; T. Bowman, 76; S. C. Breyfogel, 55; J. Young, 46; W. Horn, 37; S.

P. Spreng, 20; J. Kiekhoefer, 17; G. Hein-miller, 10, and C. K. Fehr, 10. The first three, having received a majority of all the votes, were declared elected. The second ballot resulted in no election, Rev. Horn receiving 42, J. Young 36, J. Kiekhoefer 14 and S. P. Spreng 10 votes. On the third ballot Rev. W. Horn was elected by fifty-five votes. Rev. J. Young receiving thirty-three votes.

After the election was over Rev. J. C. Horberger desired a recess of ten minutes for congratulations, etc., but conference felt otherwise, and proceeded with busi-

Rev. M. Wittenwyler, of the Wisconsin Conference, desired that conferences should designate the places where the bishops are to reside-at least the conferences in the bounds of which they should reside. But sonference decided otherwise. It is lett optional with the bishops where to reside. PUBLISHING AGENTS.

The question whether to elect two or only one publishing agent was then taken up again, and, after a brief discussion, the committee's report recommending the election of two agents for the publishinghouse at Cleveland, O., was adopted by an almost unanimous vote. Since, in the suit which A. M. Sampsel et | face.

house and other institutions of the church, the missionary society is also involved and made a defendant at law, a proposition was laid before conference that the missionary society should also bear its proportionate share of the expenses incurred in these litigations. But conferences voted unantmously that not one cent of the money paid for the support of the missionary cause should be paid for lawyers' fees, court ex-penses, etc. Other means and measures will be devised by which to defray the ex-Rev. H. Koehler, of the Michigan Conference, was excused from attendance upon the sessions of conference. Before the close of the morning session the committee on missions presented a partial report. So far as adopted the report provides that the general missionary treasurer shall keep a book for each conference. in which he is to credit each preacher with the missionary money received from his field of labor; that all missionary moneys that flow into the general treasurer shall be credited in the church papers under the headings of the respective conferences from which the money comes; that it shall be the duty of each preacher, when sending money to the treasurer, to give the name of the donor and the field of labor from Another item, that it be made the duty of each preacher to collect 20 cents per mem-ber on his field of labor for the general missionary treasury, and that he be held responsible to his conference as to whether or not he has conscientiously performed his duty, and that the publishers should furnish him with suitable envelopes to aid him in gathering these extra missionary contributions, has not yet been adopted. Most of the delegates objected to it for the reason that the people were already sufficiently burdened with appeals for contributions.

Rev. S. P. Spreng offered an amendment that it be made the duty of each preacher to take up a collection at each of his apthe missionary society; but even this did not seem satisfactory to many of the dele-gates, who thought they had collections enough to lift already.

Rev. F. Kurtz, of the Atlantic Conference, made a very earnest and eloquent appeal in favor of a more liberal support of the general missionary treasurer. In his opinion the preachers are more afraid of these extra collections than the members.

The New Bishops. Rev. S. C. Breyfogel, the first of the new bishops elected yesterday, is a native of Reading, Pa., the son of Rev. Seneca Breyfogel, of the East Pennsylvania Conference. He is about forty years of age, of medium height, prepossessing in appearance, and pleasing in manners. He entered the active service of the ministry in the East Pennsylvania Conference eighteen years ago, serving, in this time, a number of the most prominent charges in his conference, and was twice elected to the office of presiding elder. This was the third time he represented his conference in General Conference. He is eloquent in the pulpit, a man of un usual executive ability, and of unquestioned in-tegrity; and because of both his natural and acquired abilities and deep piety, he is eminent-ly qualified for the high and responsible position to which he has been elevated. While he prefers the English to the German, yet he also gives general satisfaction as a German preacher. His election to the office of bishop will be hatled with delight by his many friends throughout the church. When the chairman aunounced his election he bowed his head, buried his face in his hands, and was overcome by emotion. Rev. W. Horn, who was elected on the third ballot, is a native of Germany and came to this country when a youth of sixteen. He began his career in the United States by teaching school and when still quite young in years entered the ministry in the Wisconsin Conference. He proved himself a successful worker and was soon elected to the responsible positon of presiding elder in his conference. Not long after his election as presiding elder he was elected by General Conference as editor of the widely circulated Evangelical Magazine, a German monthly published by the Evan-gelical Association. In this position he served the church eight years, when General Conference promoted him to the respon-sible position of editor of the Christliche Botschafter, the leading and most widely circulated official organ of the church. Under his able editoriai labors the Botschafter took front rank among the German religious papers of the land.
Rev. (now Bishop) Horn is a man of fine literary culture, a good theologian, an able preacher, and one of the most versatile writers in the church.
In the fight for the church against the rebellious element within her borders Rev. Horn, as an editor, was a tower of strength to the church. His biting sareasm made him a terror to his enemies. He is about fifty years of age and of sound con-

Rudolph Dubs, D. D., LL. D., of Chicago; Rev. C. S. Haman, of Reading, Pa., and Rev. W. M. Stamford, A. M., of Harrisburg, Pa. Rev. J. Schneider, of Chicago, was elected agent the publishing-house located at Cleveland, Ohio. The editorship of the Evangelic-Messenger will be in Rev. B. J. Smoyer, of Lebanon, Pa., for the next four years. Rev. J. Kaechele, of Euffalo, N. Y., was elected editor of the Christliche Botschafter. For editor of English Sunday-school literature,

It was especially painted for Mr. Carleton by Clare, of New York, the most famous scenic artist of the day. The costumes of Oriental design were made in Paris. Seats are now on sale for the engagement.

Mr. Riddle's "Macbeth."

Mr. George Riddle gave the second of the course of readings, last night, at Plymouth Church. The tragedy "Macbeth" was read. In this great work Mr. Riddle has an opportunity for some fine work, and the great expectations to which his previous reading had led the audience to look forward were not disappointed. Each character was portrayed with such distinction that not one element was lacking, from greatest to least. It is startling to the listener to consider with what vividness the whole scene, as well as the characters, come before the mind as the reader announces them. There has never been a reader before an Indianapolis andience who is so thoroughly satisfactory in every way. Friday night, which will be the final reading for this season, a programme of miscellaneous se-lections will be given by Mr. Riddle.

TRIED TO BULL THE MARKET

An Improper Use Made of Information Concerning the German Treaty.

Somebody "Leaked" and the News Was Telegraphed to New York-The Document to Be Sent to the Kaiser in a War-Ship.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 .- An unscrupulous speculator, probably a scalper or scavenger on the market, used the news about the new commercial reciprocity treaty with Germany for all it was worth. Late on Sunday night the four or five great New York papers received from Washington a uniform telegram stating that this government had succeeded in negotiating a treaty with Germany whereby the latter government would "admit free of duty our cereals," A fictitious name was signed to the dispatch, but as it contained an important announcement it was published by at least three of the papers without verification. Efforts have been made to discover who the man was that sent the dispatch, and something about the extent to which he was interested in the boom which he tried to create in the grain market. This information came to Washington yesterday from New York, and was the principal reason why the news of the negotiation with Germany was discredited. It is believed that the man who sent the dispatch was connected in official life in such a way as to obtain important information, and it may be that an inquiry will be made which will reveal the facts. Whoever he was, he got his information quite straight, and if he "worked" the market he probably made his pile. But if he is an official he will have to sweat for it.

For several years a branch of the Department of Agriculture was within the control of grain speculators, who obtained information in advance of the regular monthly report of the condition of the growing crops and the crop output of foreign countries, and they were enabled to make for-tunes by the information they obtained in ident to every one. None but interested official channels, and the speculators often | parties could have planned it, and the pubworked the market to the disadvantage of | lic, in view of past events, virtually the farmer. Finally the nest was discov- | knows who the conspirators are. Another ered and the scheme broken up. Notwithstanding the fact that the provi sions of this treaty have been ratified by the two governments as stated in these dispatches last night, it is being denied by the two press associations. Two or three of the leading New York papers to-day in their Washington correspondence give a positive negative to the statement that this treaty has been perfected, but in their local columns they announce that the flag-ship Philadelphia is to be sent to Germany with a special letter from President Har-rison to Emperor William. If this statement proves to be true, and it is in a degree verified in official circles, it means that this government intends to give special impress to the importance of the treaty by sending it to Emperor William in a special ship at the hand of a special messenger.

Indiana's Direct Tax Refund. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.-Governor Hovey and Hon. L. T. Michener will to-morrow make arguments before Attorney-general Miller, who has been asked to interpret the laws relating to the payment of the direct tax and war claims. They contend that if requisitions, vouchers and drafts drawn in favor of the State of Indiana have been "raised," the State should not be compelled to lose the amounts, but that they should fall upon the federal government; that the latter, in making the payments to States or individuals, should be governed by the same laws, both statute and common, which compel banks to stand between fraud and the payee, and, therefore, the State of Indiana is entitled to her full share of the direct tax without any offset. Governor Hovey expects to leave for Indianapolis on Thursday morning. No Fears for the Atlanta. WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 .- No fears for the Atlana, who went to the rescue of the Despatch, are felt here. It is believed she is near the wreck, but hiding behind fog.

PUBLIC GROWING IMPATIENT At the Delay in Making Arrests of Those Who Burned the Washington Court-House.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Ind., Oct. 13 .- The persons who planned the malicious court-house fire here last week, together with their tools, will be in the toils before another week has closed. It is generally believed by those who have an insight into the work of the officers that the guilty ones cannot escape. Every action is taken note of, and all that prevents an immediate arrest is the lack of sufficient evidence to warrant conviction. Excitement is intense and violence is greatly feared when the men are locked up. The Gazette pleads with the people to allow the law to take its course. Other papers are attempting to pacify the people, but it seems that the public is determined to be judge, jury and executioner in this matter, and the delay in making arrests only makes matters matter has leaked out since the fire, and it promises to shake the city from center to circumference when exposed. The crime is a dastardly one, and must and will be avenged. LATER-The officers arrested Sam Harbin, a bod-carrier, this afternoon as one of the court-

Baffled Best Medical Skill For Eight Months Cured in Two months by Cuticura Remedies.

This is to certify that a child of mine had eczema in its worst form, and which baffled the best medical skill that could be employed here. The little sufferer was wrapped in agony for at least eight months. Six months of that time its suffering was simply untold, then I began the use of Cuticura Remedies, in two months the awful disease had ceased its vengeance, and my darling boy had rest, and to

The doctors here watched the disease with much interest, and could only say "Well done!" The case was known fa: and wide, and everybody was much surprised. But thanks to Cuticura Remedies.
